2 Two Holdups Net 4 Bandits $13,341

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, JULY 26, 1947

Armed bandits, two in each case, staged payroll holdups totaling more than $13,000 in Medford and New Bedford today, the former a $6341 haul from two officials of the M. B. Foster Electric Co., Congress st. who were going to pay employees at the Edison plant in Everett.

Robert J. Watt, Labor Leader, Dies at Sea

Robert J. Watts, 53, international representative of the American Federation of Labor, who became a recognized labor statesman after years of work in Massachusetts, died at sea today aboard the liner Saturnia, according to word received here today.

Accompanied by his wife, the former Janet Watt, he was returning to the U. S. from Geneva, where he had attended a conference of the International Labor Organization as American delegate. The liner is due in New York at 10 a. m. Monday.

AFL officials revealed Watt had suffered a heart attack just before he boarded the ship. They believed death was due to complications from a long-standing heart ailment.

Shortly after the announcement of Watt's death, Labor Sec. Schwelbensch at Washington radioed a message of sympathy to Mrs. Watt.

Watt came to Lawrence, Mass., from Scotland when he was 18 and entered the labor movement as soon as he had become a citizen. He rose quickly in the ranks of labor and became president of the Lawrence Central Labor Union, then vice-president of the Massachusetts Federation of Labor and later its secretary-treasurer.

He served as a labor member of the Massachusetts Unemployment Compensation Commission from 1936 through 1938. For four years, beginning in 1938, he represented American workers at foreign conferences. In that same year he was named AFL international representative.

President Roosevelt named Watt to be sole labor member of a 1938 nine-man commission to study British and Swedish labor movements abroad.

In the first World War he served as an infantry private with the Canadian Army. In addition to his widow, he leaves a son, Robert A. Watt, Belmont, and a daughter, Mrs. Neil Miller, Arlington, Va.

WORCESTER BOY KILLED
WORCESTER, July 25 (AP)—Late for a ball game on a neighborhood playground, Bradford A. Jordan, 7, took a short cut across the Boston and Albany Railroad tracks in Jameville this noon and was killed by a Boston-bound express. He was one of six children.

The New Bedford raid was staged by two masked, gun-brandishing men who grabbed a $7000 payroll at the New Bedford Venetian Blind Co., East Rodney French blvd., after cowering three girl employees with guns.

In the Medford holdup, two men in an automobile overtook the car of Warren H. McLellan, 47, of Wampatuck rd., Quincy, and William J. Cronin, Clark st., Ballardvale, forcing it to the side of the Fellsway artery.

COVERED BY GUNS
The bandits jumped out and held guns on the electric company officials while they seized a manila envelope containing more than $6000 in bills and a canvas bag holding silver.

Police of the Metropolitan District were given the number of the registration plate on the hold-up car.

The stickup occurred approximately 300 yards from Riverside ave.

The robbery at the New Bedford plant occurred only a few minutes after the payroll had been delivered there by an armored car service. The bandits escaped in a sedan which bore a registration plate reported stolen by Manuel Fortuna of that city several hours before.

THOUGHT MEN FOOLING
Miss Mary Sylvia, a cashier, told police she thought at first the men were "fooling" when they walked in, brandished the guns, and demanded the payroll.

But when they made it clear they were in dead earnest she told them, "Take it yourself, it's on my desk."

The pair grabbed a bank bag containing the money and ran out. One of them had difficulty in closing a rear door of the automobile, a sedan, according to Miss Margaret Daniels, the switchboard operator, and Miss Othelia DesRousseau, a clerk.

who had also been menaced by the guns.

The men fled north, toward the center of the city. One was described as in the late 20's, 5 feet 10, weighing 150 pounds and thin. The other was about the same age, 5 feet 6 and thickset. They used handkerchiefs for masks.

OK $600,000 Charlesbank Play Center

Federal officials today authorized temporary Mayor John B. Hynes and trustees of the George Robert White Fund to go ahead with construction of a $600,000 recreation center at Charlesbank Beach, West End.

The authorization came in a telegram to Hynes from Frank R. Creedon, federal housing expediter.

The project will include a bathhouse, solarium, swimming pool and wading pool and will be located opposite Massachusetts General Hospital and Charles st. jail on the Charles River beach that has been the scene of five drownings in the last few weeks and 20 drownings in the last six years.

Plans for the center were first made by the White Fund trustees six years ago, but the war precluded construction.

J. Joseph McCarthy, manager of the White Fund which will bear the entire cost of the project, said the original plans will be revised and bids will be called for in about a month. Construction will start as soon as possible, he added.

War's End Official For Veteran Benefits

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—President Truman today declared the war over, insofar as veterans' benefits and a batch of other war and emergency statutes are concerned.

The Chief Executive signed a Senate joint resolution making operative some 175 laws whose effect was based on the states of war and emergency.

In interpreting the 175 acts, resolution says, the proclamations of World War II, the limited emergency and the unlimited emergency "shall be construed as terminated and peace established."

It is therefore T-Day—Termination-of-War Day—for about 16,000,000 war veterans and servicemen and veterans' benefits will no longer be available to:

1—New enlistees. Men and women who enter the services after the President's signature is affixed will be considered peacetime personnel and are not entitled to benefits unless disabled in service.

2—Men and women in service at the time the measure is signed but who leave the services after less than 90 days of duty. Those who have even one day of service before the act becomes law, however, and remain in service for the minimum 90-day period will qualify to some degree for benefits.

For men and women still in service when the President signs the resolution, termination of benefits will begin with the day of their discharge. For other veterans of World War II, benefits will be affected as follows:

1—Education and job-training—Courses must be started not later than four years after the date of the signing and must be completed not later than nine years after T-Day.

2—Unemployment allowances—Will cease two years after T-Day.

3—Loan guarantees—Will be made any time within 10 years after T-Day.

Jobless Husband Drowns Wife

KEARNY, N. J., July 25 (INS)—Police said today a jobless truck driver lured his wife to the edge of the Passaic river, stripped and drowned her after a wild, screaming 15-minute struggle. Police said the husband, Lewis Eliops, 23, Newark, tried unsuccessfully to drown himself. The victim was Mrs. Joan Eliops, 23, a waitress at a Newark milk bar.

Emergency Operation on George Curley

An emergency operation for a blood clot was performed late this afternoon on George J. Curley, son of the mayor, following a pneumonia relapse affecting both lungs which moved officials at Cohasset Hospital to announce he was in an extremely dangerous condition.

The operation was performed after Dr. Edward P. Scholt of the hospital issued a hurry call for Dr. Cadis Phipps, Beacon st. specialist.

Mrs. James M. Curley, who has attended to the hospital from the Scituate summer home, was the only member of the family allowed to visit the mayor's son before he was wheeled into the operating room.

The younger Curley was taken to the hospital July 9, stricken with pleurisy and pneumonia in the left lung. Today, after seemingly having begun a recovery under penicillin treatment, he was found to have an infection in the right lung also.

Blowout Swerves Car Into So. Boston Piazza

The front end of an auto driven by Owen McKenna, 69, Middlesex ave., Medford, today buried itself under the front piazza of James B. Donovan, East Fifth st., South Boston, when a tire blew and the car swerved over the sidewalk and through a picket fence.

McKenna was taken to Carney Hospital. He suffered a minor finger cut.

Report Ransom Note as FBI Joins³ In Search for N. H. Heiress

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN, FRIDAY, JULY 25, 1947

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 25—The Boston American learned late today from a government official that a demand for money has been received at Holderness, N. H., by H. Ellis Straw, bank president father of Anne Straw, missing Smith College student. The official indicated it was a ransom demand. He described it as a note "which could have been sent by a kidnaper or an extortionist." The spokesman declined to state whether the note was received through the mails or otherwise.

By DONALD MacPHAIL

HOLDERNESSE, N. H., July 25—A series of fast-moving developments in the investigation of the mystery disappearance of Anne Straw, 20, four days ago, strengthened growing fears today that the attractive Smith College student and heiress had been kidnapped. These developments were:

1—Disclosure that all mail deliveries to the summer lodge of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ellis Straw, Anne's wealthy parents, were being intercepted by "certain officials."

2—Entrance of FBI agents into the case here and the detailed questioning of summer residents and neighbors of the Straw family.

(3) The report of a boat renting concern employe that the missing girl wanted to hire a speed boat several hours before she vanished without a trace last Monday.

The report of Anne's attempt to rent a boat puzzled investigators. They said it probably indicated that she had an appointment to meet someone on Big Squam Lake. This sizable body of water is linked by a channel to Little Squam where the Straw summer estate borders the water. The boat renting firm is located near this channel.

Neal McDonald, an employe of the Squam Boat Livery reported: "Anne Straw telephoned here Monday at 2 p. m. She said she wanted to hire a speed boat. I asked her where she was going and who was going with her. She wouldn't say where she was going, but said she was going alone. I didn't know who she was. I didn't want to take the responsibility of renting the boat so I asked her to call my boss, William Stockwell."

McDonald said he did not know whether Anne had called his boss or whether she had hired the boat. Stockwell was away for the day and investigators said they would question him on his return tonight.

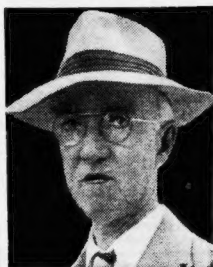

Meanwhile, the stopping of mail deliveries to the Straw summer home, following shortly on entrance of FBI agents into the case, heightened kidnap fears. Dragging of Little Squam Lake and the efforts of divers, now in the second day, have turned up no clues to bolster the early theory that Anne was a drowning victim. Mail address to the Straws was intercepted today at the Holderness and Ashland post offices. The sumptuous summer residence of the missing girl is located almost on the boundary line of these two towns.

No explanation of the mail stoppage was forthcoming from State police.

State Police Sgt. Stuart Currier said when questioned by newsmen:

"The order stopping mail deliveries came from a higher authority than ours."

FBI ADMIT QUESTIONING
Summer residents on both sides of Lake Squam admitted they have been questioned in detail by two men in plain clothes, apparently FBI agents. One FBI agent from the Concord bureau admitted he had been working on the case since early yesterday.

A spokesman for the Federal Bureau of Investigation announced that "all facilities and laboratories of the FBI have been made available for investigators."

A family spokesman Edmund Higgins, 32, a nephew of Mrs. Straw, today admitted the family is in fear "this might be such a drastic thing as kidnapping." He also revealed the parents "have asked the aid of State and government agencies."

Asked if this confirmed the news of the FBI's entry into the case, Higgins declined to amplify his reference to "government agencies."

Fear that the curly haired Smith College junior might be in the hands of kidnapers was raised when it was learned she will inherit $700,000 on her 27th birthday.

Presence of federal agents in the vicinity would not be admitted by either government or State officials. But one summer resident, Mrs. George Kelley, who listed her winter address only as

Roxbury Wife, Salem Cripple Burn to Death

Flames today took the lives of Mrs. Wilhelmina Burin, 50, of Roxbury, in her summer cottage in Westminster rd., Weymouth, and Walter Filip, 71, a cripple, unable to move while his mattress blazed in his home in Cousins st., Salem.

In South Shore Hospital, Weymouth, were Mrs. Burin's husband of nine months, Joseph, 52, Hillside st., Roxbury, with second degree burns of the face and back and multiple cuts, and her aunt, Mrs. Grace Cook, 75, suffering from shock.

MOTHER OF TWO

Mrs. Burin, mother of two children by a previous marriage, was found partly clothed in her bed when firemen were finally able to enter the one-story wooden cottage to which the family had come only yesterday.

The fire was discovered in the living room at 4:30 a. m. by Mrs. Cook, who had arisen to make herself a cup of coffee. Her screams aroused neighbors, who telephoned a still alarm.

Burin, a baker employed by a Milton cake company, leaped through a window to safety when his clothing caught fire in a futile attempt to rescue his wife.

CAUSED BY CIGARET

A preliminary investigation by the State Fire Marshal's office produced the theory the fire had been caused by defective wiring. An autopsy will be performed on Mrs. Burin by Asst. Medical Examiner Dr. Robert Ryan.

Filip died in Salem hospital a few hours after he was pulled from his blazing bed. His screams failed to rouse his wife and two children in time to save him from severe burns. Mrs. Filip and the children occupied separate rooms.

Police believed the mattress was set afire by a cigaret.

Joseph Fay Loses Fight

For Release From Jail

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—Joseph S. Fay, labor union official, today lost his fight for release from prison where he began Wednesday serving a sentence on a 1945 conviction for conspiracy and extortion. The Supreme Court Justice Henry Clay Greenberg, dismissed an application for a writ of habeas corpus and ordered the prisoner back to the Riker's Island penitentiary.

Barbara, one of Boston's three fabulous Cushing sisters—the others are Mrs. Vincent (Mary) Astor and Mrs. Jock (Betsy Cushing Roosevelt) Whitney—is the former wife of Stanley G. Mortimer, Jr. Married in September 1940, and divorced last year, they have two children.

Paley's first wife, Mrs. Dorothy Hart Paley, got her divorce decree in Reno Wednesday. Along with the divorce, it was learned she got a $1,500,000 check in settlement, reportedly largest cash settlement in an uncontested divorce in Nevada history. The Paleys were married in Kingman, Ariz., in 1932, and have two adopted children.

Neither Paley nor his reported bride-to-be was available for comment on their marital plans. The radio tycoon could not be reached at CBS and Barbara was not at home in either her East 86th st. apartment or at her Manhasset, L. I., summer residence. The two Mortimer children are in care of a nurse at the Long Island estate.

Former Rep. May, 2 Garssons Given 8 Mos. to 2 Yrs.

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Ex-Congressman Andrew J. May was sentenced today to a term of from eight months to two years in prison on charges of accepting $53,634.07 in bribes while he was wartime chairman of the House military affairs committee.

The two men accused of paying May the bribes—munitions makers Murray and Henry Garsson—also were given prison terms, with a minimum of eight months and a

Andrew J. May

Henry Garsson maximum of two years. The maximum penalty that could have been imposed on each by Judge Henry A. Schweinhaut was six years in prison and a fine of $30,000.

In imposing sentence, Justice Schweinhaut said he was not levying any fines because of the defendants' present financial condition.

Except for May, whose voice wavered and almost broke on several occasions while addressing the court, the defendants showed little emotion.

Henry Garsson, like May, also addressed the judge before receiving his sentence. He said he had a motive in seeking May's help on war production matters, but he insisted "that motive was to help the war effort."

PLEAD FOR NEW TRIAL

The sentencing was delayed for more than two hours while the defendants' lawyers pleaded for a new trial and May beseeched the court for mercy.

The 72-year-old former Kentucky Democratic Congressman insisted he had never taken "a single dime" dishonestly during his long service in Congress.

He told Schweinhaut:

"I stand before the court today with a clear, clean conscience. I never violated a law as far as I know in the 72 years of my life."

"I never received a dollar directly or indirectly that was not honestly earned or justly due. I never got a single dime from the Garssons or anybody else."

"I never did a thing in Congress that today vexes my conscience."

"I stand here today on the mercy of the court. If I go to jail my grandchildren will drop out of college."

"Regardless of what has been said in the malicious press . . . I'm not guilty."

Defense attorneys, who have said they will carry the case to the Supreme Court if necessary, pleaded for a new trial and praised May and the Garssons before May addressed the court.

MALDEN MAN SUICIDE

Michael Quinlan, 3, is no Humpty Dumpty, as he proved today to his frantic mother, Mrs. Eleanor Quinlan, Vernon st., Roxbury.

A panel of the second-floor piazza gave way while Michael was playing and sent him plunging 20 feet to the ground.

At City Hospital, where he was rushed by police, medical attaches said: "No injuries."

Rob New Father Of Hospital Cash

An Everett ex-GI, father of a new-born baby, was kidnapped and driven around greater Boston today before being robbed of $131 intended for hospital money and dumped out in West Roxbury.

Frederick H. Bradley, 35, of Francis st., a staff sergeant in the Army during the war, was walking home from Whidden Memorial Hospital where he had visited with his wife, Lena, 25, and Ellen Pauline, his daughter born last Sunday.

Earlier he had drawn money from the bank to pay the hospital bill but was told he should wait until Mrs. Bradley was discharged tomorrow.

At Ferry and Cherry sts., Everett, two men halted him with the request for a match. As he complied one of them pulled a gun and he was ordered into a machine parked nearby.

A short distance away, at Plymouth rd. and Revere Beach pkwy., the men took his money, and even his cigarettes and matches.

Marlboro Feels Slight Quake

MARLBORO, July 25 (INS)—Residents of the city of Marlboro were awakened today by a slight earth tremor. No damage was reported.

A check with the Weston College seismograph department in near-by Weston disclosed the "quake" was centered in Chelmsford, 15 miles northwest of the college. However, the shock was not felt in that area.

Edward Shepard, in temporary charge of the observatory, said:

"The record showed the tremor was very strong, stronger than the one in 1838 which did considerable damage, and it possibly was very deep and as a result was not felt at the surface."

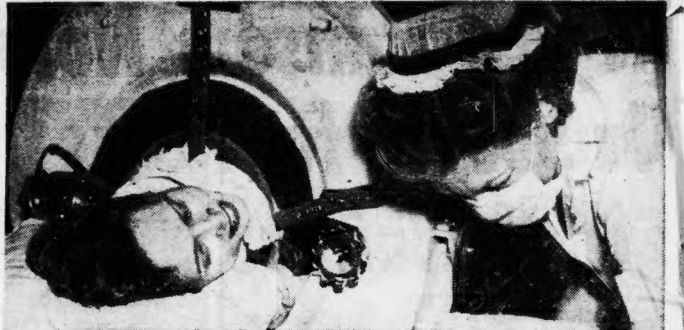

Shepard also announced that another quake was recorded in the East Indies area, 8965 miles from the college yesterday.

Archbishop's Body Here on Way to Burial

Roman Catholic services for the dead were conducted today aboard the Liner President Monroe which arrived today from Italy with the body of the late Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco.

The body which is en route to burial in San Francisco was entombed in Italy during the war after the death of the prelate in 1941 in Rome.

Friars representing Archbishop Cushing were met at the service by the Rt. Rev. Egidio Pozzi of the Vatican, who accompanied the body.

immigration authorities to bring her here and she had greeted him lovingly when she stepped down the gang-plank of the Wesleyan Victory yesterday.

She left him this morning, Wilson notified the immigration men.

She told him her true love was a New York man and she must needs fly to the fellow's arms, Wilson said.

"I must needs congratulate her boy friend for taking her off my hands, if that's the pitch," philosophized Wilson. "But I would like to get that $500 back."

He identified his ex-fiancee as Miss Wilhelmina C. Hoffman, daughter of an Upington, South Africa, rancher. He met her when the USS Wilkesbarre was on a goodwill tour after the war, Wilson explained.

After Miss Hoffman debarked yesterday, he realized he took her to a Boston hotel, got her a room, engaged another for himself and went to sleep in anticipation of taking up marriage details in the morning.

But over their very toast and coffee she told him it was all a mistake and she must be off to the arms of the New Yorker, even if it had been Wilson, not his rival, who had anted up the $500 bond.

So they went their ways and Wilson's way was straight to the immigration authorities. They sympathized with him. They said it must be a great disappointment. They also said he must remember that the $500 was, by law, a guaranty that Miss Hoffman would marry or leave the country after 90 days.

And he would have to keep in mind, too, that if immigration officials started ferricetting around the country to find Miss Hoffman they were entitled to use as much of the $500 as necessary for expenses.

Wilson bought a railroad ticket for Philadelphia to rejoin his ship. He said he didn't think he would stop off at New York. "Maybe I'm lucky," he mused.

Army Research Center OK'd for Boston Area

There is little chance, however, that the bill will come before the House before adjournment tomorrow.

4 Fires Set In Vet Area, Youth Held

Four incendiary fires, three at the same house within the last 24 hours at the Westgate veterans' housing project for M. I. T. students, were disclosed by Cambridge police today as they held a 23-year-old firebug suspect after a night of terror for the veterans' families.

A 3 a. m. yesterday a pyromania set fire to the one-story wooden house occupied by David Frisch in Miller's ct. At 3 a. m. this morning, then again at 3.55, the firebug struck at the same house again.

At 4.31 he broke into the nearby Cain's Mayonnaise Co. in Vassar st. and kindled another blaze. Firemen succeeded in extinguishing the flames each time before much damage had been done.

The youth in custody was picked up because police and firemen found envelopes and wrapping paper bearing his name near the fires set at Frisch's home. He was wearing a T-shirt which fitted a description of the prowler given police by Arthur Sable, another M. I. T. veteran-student, who said he saw a youth near Frisch's home twice during the night.

RFC Backed Hughes on Secret Order by Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 25 (INS)—The Senate war investigating committee has possession of a secret memorandum which discloses President Roosevelt personally ordered the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to finance Howard Hughes in his wartime aircraft ventures. Authoritative sources revealed executors of the late President's estate have released most of the private FDR papers subpoenaed by the committee for the Hughes probe, which opens Monday.

By CHARLES FINSTON

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., July 25—Photostatic proof that Interior Sec. Julius A. Krug was lavishly entertained with wine, women and song—again and again and again—by Producer-Pilot Howard Hughes was uncovered by the Hearst newspapers.

Expense reports kept meticulously by John W. Meyer, $10,000-a-year publicity man and vice-president of Hughes' aircraft corporation, disclosed the tell-tale story.

These photostats constitute the strongest evidence in the hands of the senatorial war funds committee investigating Hughes' undelivered wartime flying boat, which cost American taxpayers $40,000,000.

BIG NAMES ON LIST

Big names were fêted by Hughes, including Krug, Elliott Roosevelt, Faye Emerson (now Elliott's wife), many War Production Board officials and Army Air Force officers, movie celebrities and party girls.

Meyer's expense accounts list Gov. Mon C. Wallgren of Washington as having attended some of the formal functions.

Another who experienced the hospitality of Johnny Meyer was Nicholas A. de Rachat, of the Soviet purchasing commission.

The expense accounts covered a wide range, from lively parties, hotel bills and elaborate dinners to formal business luncheons and official celebrations. But they all had one thing in common—Johnny Meyer always picked up the check.

His expense data covers a three-year period — 1943-46, including the war.

Leading night clubs, hotels and restaurants in Hollywood, New York and Washington are named.

Costs of the lavish parties are staggering when viewed in the light of wartime austerity.

$200 PARTY GIRLS

Party girls were paid as high as $200. Whisky flowed freely, distances were no barrier as planes took guests from coast to coast. There were costly gifts and phone calls to girls, and tips to waiters.

(Reports in Washington were that Krug was quizzed for a second time by Sens. Brewster (R.) of Maine, Ferguson (R.) of Michigan and Hatch (D.) of New Mexico and by investigator Bill Rogers.

(Krug broke down and conceded "it looked bad" as he pleaded with the Senators. Krug is 40 and weighs 240 pounds. He has been in President Truman's cabinet since February, 1946.)

All bills were charged either to

SEC. JULIUS KRUG

Hughes Aircraft Corp., Hughes Productions (the movie outfit) or TWA Air Line, in which Hughes is a major stockholder.

TIPS FOR WAITERS

A chronology for some parties given for Krug follows:

Feb. 29, 1944, Meyer charged up a $439.90 "materials" bill to Hughes Aircraft for a party in Hollywood. Costs included $131.90 at Mocambo; waiter tips, $30; four girls were paid $50 to $75 each. They were E. R. Madrid, Judy Cook, R. A. Merritt and E. V. Taylor. A $5 cab bill was paid for M. A. Goldthwaite.

Present with Krug, then vice-chairman of WPB, were Col. Edwin Rawlings (later a general), Lt. Col. Dan Silberberg and Maj. Morton Willner. Meyer was host.

Then followed a $406.15 bill charged to Hughes Aircraft for two parties at the Trocadero on March 4 and 6, 1944, where dinner cost $108.50 one night and $45.55 the next. Bar bills totaled $41.50 and tips $42. There was a $5 taxi charge, and two girls, R. A. Merritt and L. L. Stafford, were paid $125 for "entertainment."

Following the dinners, Krug and the party of officers went to Mocambo Night Club for drinks, $27.50, and tips, $4; and wound up the night at the Clover Club with drinks totaling $29.10; tips, $4 and photos, $6. There was also a $3 restaurant charge.

Oct. 28, 1944. (The scene shifts to New York.) Meyer charged $250 for "entertainment" for Krug, now WPB chairman, and Navy Capt. John Davis Small, executive assistant to Krug. The "entertainment" was provided by four girls, Linda Shelton, Betty Curtis, Joyce Breyer and Sally Moody.

On Dec. 4, 1944, Meyer listed $19.40 for boxes of oranges to Krug and Col. Rawlings.

COAST TO COAST

Jan. 9, 1945.—In New York, again, Meyer lists a $19 lunch at "21" Club; $71 dinner at El Boracho; and dinner at El Morocco on the following day, $11. Guests listed were: Nicholas A. de Rachat, John D. Small, assistant WPB chief; Hiland Garfield Batcheller, WPB chief of operations; and WPB Chairman Krug. Girl partners at the affairs were listed as: Elsa Mori, Marie Windsor, Jean Duval, Marla Harrington and Janet Thomas, who flew up from California to be with Meyer. All expenses were charged to Hughes Aircraft.

March 4, 1945 (the scene shifts to California)—Meyer entered a $246.51 expense account for a party in honor of Krug at Rogers' Stables in Palm Springs. Present were Krug, Henry P. Nelson, WPB chief of aircraft section; Morton Willner, assistant chief of WPB aircraft section; Edward F. Falck, chief of WPB utilities section; Dr. Lewis H. Marks, special consultant to Krug; Louis R. Dreves, chief of WPB in southern California; Brig. Gen. Edwin W. Rawlings of the Air Force; and Col. Harry A. MacNacin, aide to Gen. Rawlings.

There were five girls at the party, too. They stayed at the Desert Inn while the men stopped at the Racquet Club. The girls and hotel bills paid for them were: Judy Cook and Jean Staff, $75.94; June Ealen, $41.61; Janet Thomas, $48.94, and Myrna Dell, $37.07.

Oct. 16, 1945 (Still in California)—Meyer chalked up $124 for Krug's charges at the Beverly Hills hotel. Also listed with Krug were: Charles H. Ketcham of WPB; Robert R. Hatfield, Dr. W. J. Morgan, and H. A. Peterson. A $10 tip to the phone girls was also listed.

Oct. 17 (Next day)—Meyer charged up a $252 dinner for 14 people at Mocambo in honor of Krug.

Oct. 13-15, 1946 (The scene shifts again to New York)—A total of $381 is charged to Hughes Productions (the movie outfit) as follows:

Rothman's Restaurant at Oyster Bay, five people, $38, with tips and present included for Marilyn Buford (Miss America) and Guy Lombardo and wife.

Two ladies bags, $80 each, and "entertainment" for P. A. Krug $100, with Dolores Fatum listed in brackets under Krug's name.

St. Regis bar, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell, $14.

LUNCH, COCKTAILS, $85
Dinner at Patsy Rest for the Powells, $42.

Embassy Club (late), $27.
On Nov. 9, 1946, Mr. and Mrs. Krug and the undersecretary of the interior, Oscar Chapman, and his wife, were fêted up to $85 for lunch and cocktails at three Washington hotels.

Dec. 18, 1946—(the scene shifts to New York)—Meyer had a charge of $212 charged up to Hughes Aircraft thus:

Restaurant Robert, four people, $37; for "entertainment," Miss Linda Shelton, $100, and Miss Jane Green, $75.

Under their names appeared the names of Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, Olympia, Wash., and Interior Sec. Krug.

All Contracts Made Good, Says Hughes

LOS ANGELES, July 25 (AP)—Howard Hughes, multi-millionaire movie maker and industrialist, central figure in a congressional probe of his wartime plane-building contracts, denied today "the charge, stated or implied" that he had failed to fulfill his government contracts.

The invariably-reticent Hughes, in a statement, declared:

"About the many charges reported to have been leveled at me, I will have plenty to say when the proper times come."

"But there is one allegation which has appeared so frequently in the news that I feel I must deny it emphatically right now. This is the charge, stated or implied, that my company has spent $40,000,000 of government funds without completing or delivering an airplane."

"This statement is absolutely untrue."

"The Army formally accepted delivery of an XF-11 Photo Reconnaissance Airplane, first of three to be delivered under a $13,000,000 contract, at Wright Field in September, 1945. The Army formally accepted delivery of another, that in which I crashed and was nearly killed last year, after Army reports showed that the propeller, not the airplane, was at fault."

"The government formally accepted delivery of the completed Hughes flying boat, largest airplane in the world, in February, 1947."

"I have invested, at this date, $7,000,000 of my company's money in this airplane."

To charges that he gave lavish parties, Hughes replied more briefly:

"The contention that this entertainment was responsible for the issuance of these airplane contracts is ridiculous because the entertainment occurred after the contracts were awarded."

OK Army Training For Vote Next Year

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The House armed services committee today approved a universal military training bill by a vote of 20 to 0.
 Chairman Andrews (R.) of New York told reporters immediately that there is no intention of bringing the bill to a House vote this year. He said the committee action is intended solely to get a bill before Congress. The bill, drafted by a subcommittee, goes to the House calendar and will be ready for consideration early next year.

NAVY SEEKS SEA BEES

Naval reservists with Sea Bee ratings were invited today to sign up for one of the two-week training periods to be conducted this fall at the Navy's amphibious base at Little Creek, Va.

Basic Steel Prices Up $6 and $7 Per Ton
MIDDLETON, O., July 25 (AP)—The American Rolling Mill Co. today was first member of the steel family to boost basic steel prices. President Charles R. Hook announced last night ARMCOC intended to meet rising costs by getting $6 and $7 more a ton. Revised prices quoted a basic figure of $37 a ton for hot rolled steel compared with $50 previously, and $71 against $64 for cold rolled steel.

Fight to Split Java Won, Dutch Claim

BATAVIA, July 25 (AP)—The Dutch said today the first phase of operations against the Indonesian republican army—aimed at isolating Central Java from the rice-producing east and west—had been completed.

Reporting from the republican capital of Jogjakarta, deep in the interior, Associated Press Correspondent Harris Jackson said official republicans obviously foresee the possibility that the Dutch would capture the main part of Java, but insisted the Indonesians would render the Dutch position continuously precarious with guerrilla warfare.

The Dutch here said the next step would be to mop up zones of resistance in the eastern and western parts of the island and install new administrations. Whether Dutch troops then would drive on Jogjakarta in an attempt to smash the remainder of the republic was undecided, the informant said.

Robbery Victim Held By Court

Between the lineup where he allegedly made positive identification of the man who robbed him of $40 and the municipal court where Walter Konik, 24, Billerica st., West End, was held on the robbery charge, Michael Shumanski, 53, Chalmers st., Boston, changed his mind.

"I'm not quite sure he's the man," Shumanski told Judge Adlow. But police told the judge Shumanski had been certain Konik was the man.

So Judge Adlow sent around to Judge Joseph Riley, who issued a complaint charging Shumanski with contempt in obstructing justice by testifying falsely in court. Shumanski was held in $300 for a hearing Tuesday. Konik was held in $2000 for the grand jury.

Credit Curbs Seen Off by Nov. 1

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—A return to unrestricted installment buying by Nov. 1 appears likely today, with the possibility President Truman may end controls on time payments even earlier.

Compromise legislation to kill the credit buying curbs at the end of October passed the House by voice vote and was sent to the Senate. Senate action is expected to send the measure on to the White House by tomorrow night.

DON'T BLAME FISH

HILLSDALE, Mich., July 25 (AP)—"Some fishermen couldn't catch a fish if it was thrown at them."

That's the opinion of W. F. Carbine of the state conservation dept. who said more efficient fishing methods must be devised to bridge the gap between production and harvesting of the fish.

He said fishermen's inexperience rather than a lack of co-operation on the part of the fish, was responsible for the poor catch listed by many.

Slapper of Priest Gets 90 Days

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—James P. Clark, 30-year-old restaurant counterman who pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct in connection with the slapping of a priest's face was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse today by Magistrate Robert T. Mahoney.

Clark's lawyer pleaded that the defendant be apled so that he could join alcoholics anonymous, but Magistrate Mahoney refused, saying:

"Even eliminating the fact that a priest was the victim, it was an unwarranted, unprovoked, vicious assault on anybody."

The attorney also stated that the priest, the Rev. Pierre V. Goedertier, who was assigned to St. Boniface R. C. Church, had written to Clark expressing forgiveness. Magistrate Mahoney commented:

"In Christian charity, there probably was nothing else he could do."

Clark, before slapping the priest on the Avenue of the Americas, told him:

"I don't like your face."

SURPRISE

PHILADELPHIA, July 25 (AP)—Councilman George D. Mansfield has a pair of sore ears but not from listening to speeches in council chambers.

The Philadelphia lawmaker was named a judge for the Wisconsin Yacht Club motor boat races and duly installed in a seat on the judge's stand.

Suddenly there was a terrific roar that flooded Mansfield. The other officials had forgotten to tell him such races are started with a cannon.

Coin Laundries Called Sanitary

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—rental laundry machines used by several families, are a potential source of a "deadly epidemic."

Herbert Blum, president of the Ass'n of Self-Service Laundry Operators, Inc., issued today a denial of charges made yesterday by Rep. O'Toole (D.) of New York that communal laundry machines here contain "violent disease-producing bacteria." Blum said:

"All member stores operating in the city have received the approval of the department of health and the association conducts periodic examinations of all member stores to see that they abide by all sanitary regulations." O'Toole's statement to the House in Washington, said the

He said both parents "are on the verge of collapse" and added that a nurse is now on duty at the house. Neither father nor mother has slept more than a few hours since their daughter disappeared and her bedroom was found unoccupied Tuesday morning.

60 TELEPHONE CALLS

Higgins said that Anne's father had received approximately 60 telephone calls since 6 a. m. today from persons within a 100-mile area who reported they had seen a girl "who might be Anne." The calls came from Boston, a number of Maine communities, and from summer resorts in New Hampshire. Police also were getting similar telephone calls and telegrams.

Constable Lionel Shaw received four telegrams, one from Lawrence, Mass., one from Worcester, Mass., and two from Concord, N. H. A Worcester man said a girl resembling Anne was seen in the railroad station there, dressed in a light blue suit and wearing a bandeau. The other telegram senders reported seeing a girl in slacks hitchhiking on New Hampshire roads.

Here to aid the missing girl's parents today was her uncle, Col. William Parker Straw of Manchester and Straw Point, Rye. Col. Parker is president of the Amoskeag Savings Bank, agent for the Amoskeag Mfg. Co., and a director of the Public Service Co. of New Hampshire. A Harvard graduate, he served as a major in the AEF in the first World War.

As the fourth day of search began, New Hampshire State Police renewed dragging operations and two more divers arrived to probe the murky depths of Little Squam lake, in the vicinity of the Straw lodge.

That the girl might have drowned during a midnight swim alone was another theory advanced. It was reported that Anne had gone swimming at night against the strong wishes of her parents, and that she had frequently voiced a desire to swim across the mile-wide pond.

Discovery of her one-piece white bathing suit and a flashlight on a rock at the water's edge and some 500 feet from the Straw lodge gave grim support to this theory.

The pink pajamas worn by the girl when she kissed her mother goodnight about 10 p. m. Wednesday have not yet been found. They were sleeveless, with knee-length pants, and it was thought possible the girl might have worn them on her night swim.

"PEEPING TOM" SEEN

Police said complaints have been received from two recent occasions that girls frolicking in the water after dark have seen a "peeping Tom" lurking in woods on the shore.

The girls fled, with the man following at close enough range to be seen closely, but on neither occasion did he bother the feminine bathers, according to the complaints.

When search for the girl's body resumed in the lake today, the famous diving team of Fred Wallace and his son, Fred, Jr., of Somerville, Mass., were ready to aid the diver already on hand.

He is Robert "Al" Hewitt of Bristol, who spent the first day searching rocky and tree-strewn bottom where grappling hooks could not be used.

Dragging operations on the surface continued, with several boats participating, under the direction of New Hampshire State Trooper Robert Dearborn and Conservation Officer Everett Baker.

NO STEADY BOY FRIEND

Volunteers working with local policemen, Lionel Shaw and George Plant, scoured the woodlands surrounding the Straw lodge for evidence the girl might have met with foul play.

Mrs. Straw admitted she knew no reason why Anne should have run away. She said she was to have left their summer home yesterday with her aunt, Miss Ruth Higgins, for a vacation on a dude ranch in Wyoming.

Anne, they said, had no steady boy friends, and an examination of her mail over the past several months from boy and girl friends could throw no light on her disappearance.

Last trace of the missing girl was furnished State Police by Miriam Kirk, maid in the Straw household, who reported she heard Anne leaving the house about 11:30 p. m. She said she did not see her.

Investigators pointed out that the Straw home was only 500 yards from Route 3, a heavily traveled artery running south to

Massachusetts and Boston

Anne was last seen by her mother about 10 p. m. Monday. Anne was in bed at the time, and was clad in pink pajamas, sleeveless and with short legs. The pajamas have not been found.

On Tuesday morning, when Anne failed to appear at breakfast her parents examined her room and found it empty.

A check of Anne's wardrobe showed no clothes missing, as far as her parents could determine. However, they said they could not be sure.

Disclosure that Anne was not too keen about making the auto trip to Wyoming led police to consider the theory that she simply ran away rather than face parental insistence that she go. On the other hand her parents said she had never seriously objected to the trip, but was not too anxious about it because she had never been to a ranch before.

According to her parents, Anne led a very sheltered life. One of her college classmates said Anne "had a crush" on an Amherst student named "Dick" whom she met at Hanover on a skiing party last winter.

CHECK ON ALL BUSES

In a statement given out by her parents, they said:

"Anne was not the type of girl who would practice deception. She has no romantic interest. Her principal fondness was for activities at Smith College. We could not want a finer or better daughter."

parties that stretch from the night playground of California to the bright lights of Manhattan. Caliente race track is also in the picture.

Here are examples of some of Roosevelt's expenses, listed in Meyer's expense accounts:

Aug. 21, 1943 (the war still on then)—Liquor for New York apartment, $115; presents for four girls, $200; Roosevelt party at El Morocco, 12 people, $172, and Copacabana, $84.

PRESENTS FOR GIRLS

Aug. 22 (next day)—Roosevelt dinner party for 12 persons at Monte Carlo, $163, and Leon and Eddie's, $78; presents for girls, $75.

Aug. 23 (next day)—Jack Frye and Elliott Roosevelt party for nine people at Stork Club, $94, and El Morocco, $68; Chic Farmer to stop publicity of Elliott being in New York, $30, and scarce nylon hose gifts, $132.

Sept. 7, 1943—Meyer covered an $83.15 bill of young Roosevelt at Jack and Charlie's.

Sept. 17, 1943 (Back in Hollywood)—Meyer was tabbed for $11 for dinner, drinks, and taxi for Faye Emerson, and $115 for liquor from Schwab's drug store for "Doheny Drive," Hughes' home in Hollywood.

Sept. 20, 1943 (still in Hollywood)—Meyer listed Ava Gardner for champagne charges of $21 at Lamaze, and $24 at Mocambo.

Elliott stopped at the Beverly Hills Hotel and bungalows in Beverly Hills, Cal., from Nov. 22 to Dec. 8, 1944. The room cost $25 a day. He tallied up a bill during that period, totaling $576.83.

The bill was marked "Mail to Hughes Aircraft, Culver City, Cal." On it was written, "O. K." and it was signed "Col. E. Roosevelt." It was initiated "J. W. M., Johnny Meyer's okay."

A little earlier, the late President's son ran up a huge hotel bill at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, from Oct. 28 to Nov. 4, 1944. The bill totaled $499.90. Among the charges was a cash C. O. D. for $116.25. This bill similarly was marked "O. K. to pay. Charge H.A.C. (Hughes Aircraft Corp.)" and initiated by Meyer on Nov. 6, 1944.

One of the strange photo-stals is a check for $159.41 made out on the Bank of America in Hollywood by Hughes Aircraft Corp. payable to a Paul Franklin. It itemized the following:

"Dec. 6, 1944, expenses Col. E. Roosevelt's wedding party, $58.41.

"Four days pilot's time, $100. Net amount, $159.41."

During the time Elliott was at the Beverly Hills hotel, Johnny Meyer itemized an expense for a week-end trip to Palm Springs. It lasted from Nov. 24 to Nov. 27, 1944. Cost totaled $150, charged to Hughes Aircraft Corp.

WEEKEND FOR ELLIOTT

Among the items were gas and oil (round trip) $7; maid tip (4 days at C. Morrison house), $20; bars at Palm Springs, $22; tips to bar maid and phone girl, $10.

Guests were listed by Meyer thus: Col. Elliott Roosevelt, Lt. Col. John Hoover, Faye Emerson, Janet Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. William Powell (Diane Lewis Powell).

After Elliott checked out of the Waldorf and before his trip to Beverly Hills, Johnny Meyer gave a party for Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger at Elliott's request. It was held in Waldorf Astoria Towers.

The guests included top names in New York's Who's Who. It was held Nov. 19. Seven days earlier Meyer paid for two public stenographers for Elliott and Mrs. Boettiger, charges being $15.

On Dec. 22, 1944, Elliott, who was back from California, was entertained together with his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, in Washington. The Boettigers were listed in Meyer's itemized statement as living at the White House.

They went to the Troika, running up a bill for $23; then to the Mayflower hotel, $23. A miscellaneous charge of $7.50 was thrown in. Hughes Aircraft paid it all.

FAYE FREQUENT GUEST

Before her marriage to Elliott, Faye Emerson seemed to be a popular figure and a frequent guest at Hughes' parties.

Between July 7 and 9, 1944, she was guest at a three-day party totaling $342. This covered a visit to Caliente race track with bets costing $150 and dinners, drinks and fuel charges. Along with Faye were Patricia Clark, Hughes and Meyer.

On Sept. 8, 1944, Meyer got a $109.75 bill for two small lucite bags, $90, and two metallic brocade wallets, $30, from Carrie Munn, New York.

A fortnight later, on Sept. 26, Meyer sent a letter to Miss Munn rejecting the metallic wallets, but accepting the lucite bags. Typed below his signature was the following notation:

"These are to be charged to Hughes Aircraft as gifts for Miss Faye Emerson and Miss Judy A. Cook."

Hughes Agent Boasted "Parties Blocked Probe"

LOS ANGELES, July 25 (INS)—Los Angeles Examiner to former official at Howard Hughes' aircraft plant as saying Johnny Meyer, Hughes' principal aide, boasted he thwarted a Truman Senate committee's plans to inspect the plant by deluging the investigators with entertainment.

The newspaper said the disclosure was made by John Schwarzkopf, former editor of the Hughes plant publication.

The Examiner story quotes Schwarzkopf: "The only interest I have in this matter is my loyalty to the United States first—and not Howard Hughes."

"I'm pretty sure it was in 1943, when President Truman still was head of what is now the war investigating committee, that several of the Senators came here to look over aircraft production."

"Johnny Meyer came to me and said, 'John, you look after things at the plant... those — from the Truman committee are in town and I've got to entertain them and keep them away from the plant.'"

"Meyer was busy for about three days and afterward he said: 'It was a — — — of a job. But I did it.'"

The Roosevelts are shown here with their wedding party at Grand Canyon, Ariz. In group are (l. to r.) Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frye (he once headed Hughes' TWA airline); actress Janet Thomas (husband under subpoena), the bride; couple John Meyer, Hughes' right-hand man; and the maid of honor, Miss L. B. THE NEW BAN ON PARKING

MANY SENSIBLE methods of solving Boston's problem of traffic congestion have been discussed in the last five years, but none has developed from a dream to a reality.

They all expired in the embryo stage; if, perchance, they got that far.

The universally popular Garage Under the Common is still little more than a piece of architect's drawing board with some fancy blue ink sketches on it.

Those lovely, conveniently located ramp garages that were going to lure shoppers much as sugar draws flies have proved as ephemeral as economy at a New Dealers' barbecue.

And that system of broad, new roads which was supposed to whisk the motor-borne public over Boston in the Miracle Age manner has made interesting pictures for the book prepared by the Postwar Highway Commission, and children who tire of Red Riding Hood and Jack-in-the-Beanstalk may enjoy looking at them there at bedtime.

It is scarcely surprising, therefore, that the Massachusetts Safety Council should find itself justified in now coming up with a traffic-thinning program of its own invention, even though it is admittedly more of a palliative than a panacea.

For sixty days after the inaugural date of the plan, which is October first, parking will be restricted by police department orders to one side of the principal thoroughfares of Boston and eleven surrounding cities and towns.

Naturally, this will reduce congestion, but the danger is that it also will reduce business and employment. If a motorist is not permitted to get out of his car he can hardly be expected to patronize stores and professional services.

However, this could be a blessing in disguise, like cough syrup or a mustard plaster. With the economy of the metropolitan area adversely affected and their own pocket-books threatened, the myopic folk who have blocked the more practical solutions of the traffic problem might find it personally advantageous to behave less obstructively in the future.

COLLEGE PROBLEM

THE University of Massachusetts at Fort Devens has announced accommodations for one thousand freshmen and sophomores, many of whom are veterans who have been denied the cultural opportunities afforded by the numerous older and better known institutions of higher learning that flourish in this education-loving Commonwealth.

In fact, the only reason for creating the Devens school was to carry out the State's promise that every fighting man who wanted a college diploma would be able to get one when peace blessed the land.

Nonetheless, thousands of persons continue to argue with increasing vigor that Harvard and the other great scholastic establishments should be compelled by law to accept qualified Massachusetts residents before they open their doors to Kansas, Texas, Colorado and other States' residents, not to mention students from other nations.

The arguers point out that tax exemptions and other cherished concessions enjoyed by Harvard and similar schools cost the people of Massachusetts as much as sixty million dollars a year but do not impose any financial burden whatever on the people of other States and nations.

Rep. Peter J. Jordan of Revere, and Rep. Louis Lobel of Boston brought this controversial matter to the attention of their fellow lawmakers during the last session of the Legislature and jointly proposed that Harvard and other schools be placed under a statutory requirement to restrict at least 30 per cent of their annual enrollment to Massachusetts residents or else to give up their tax exemptions.

But the suggestion was lost in the sky, nor sent up by outraged educators at their "global responsibilities" seriously damaged by such a THOUGHTFUL MALE inventors continue to originate machines and gadgets that make life easier for females. Now some brilliant fellow has originated a small gadget about the size of a cocktail shaker that can be used for rapid and easy washing of stockings, gloves, etc. Costs only $1. In gratitude for this invention by a man, it seems the ladies should try to find some other place to hang their drying hose than on the shower curtain in the bathroom, where it irritates their loving husbands.

HORSES & WOMEN — A New Yorker who describes himself as "a student of horses and women in the order named" writes:

The day of the preference for blondes by gentlemen has definitely passed. Not only are brunettes preferred socially but the dark-dressed actresses are the most popular. Look at the record. That's why so many blonde actresses are becoming synthetic brunettes. Carole Landis for example. The most popular type of brunette among bachelors is the blue-eyed brunette. Brunettes in general have more color, retain their school girl complexions longer and are more spirited than blondes. The blondes fade fast and even in their middle 30's begin making desperate visits to the beauty shop to have signs of age obliterated. Brunettes are also more intelligent, less selfish and conceded and make better companions than blondes.

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—What in your opinion was the best series of film shorts ever produced? A—I nominate the Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew two-reel comedies based on married life. For second place: The Keystone comedies. For third: "The Leather Pushers," that series based on H. C. Witwer's boxing yarns. Q—What tricks does your dog do? A—Absolutely none. Being a hunting dog, he believes tricks are below his dignity. However, he occasionally has been persuaded to do helpful tasks. He used to bring the daily newspaper in when we lived in a house where it was tossed on the lawn. Remarkable thing about that was he would only bring in our regular newspaper. If by mistake, the rival sheet or a shopping news publication was thrown on the lawn he ignored it.

PLEASE NOTE—You often hear of former major league stars who are destitute. Several men, who were first flight diamond stars in their youth, have recently found themselves broke and forgotten in their middle age. You would be astonished to hear the names of some of the baseball idols of the year-year who have found themselves in that tragic condition. This is greatly to the discredit of the baseball magnates, who should read a page from the book of the Jai-Alai Ass'n.

No professional jai-alai player suffers from poverty when his playing days are over. All retired jai-alai players enjoy a pension, which enables them to live not only in comfort but in the manner they were accustomed to in their playing days.

REMEMBER "I Kiss Your Hand, Madame!" It was popular about the same time as that mournful ditty titled "Just a Gigolo," around 1930 I would say. Anyway, I note a young woman, who is a perfume saleswoman, recently visited Paris for the first time and upon her return told ship news reporters she thought "hand kissing" was a "delightful custom." She said she "enjoyed it" when, upon the occasion of her introduction to a Frenchman, the gentleman kissed her hand. She said she was going to try to get the young men she knew to follow this custom. She lives in Brooklyn. I am not optimistic about her success in making hand-kissing a Brooklyn custom.

SIDELIGHTS—If seeking a restaurant where good steaks are served find out where the professional ballplayers eat. They are the country's greatest and most discerning steak eaters. . . . Once more I suggest to any Hollywoodian wishing to do a re-make of an old film that he produce a modern version of William De Mille's story "Why Change Your Wife?" This was originally directed and produced by Cecil B. De Mille with a cast which included Tom Meighan, Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels.

THESE DAYS

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Copyright, 1947, by King Features Syndicate, Inc. ON NOV. 29, 1945, Henry Wallace, as Secretary of Commerce, was reported to have predicted that 7,000,000 would be unemployed in 1946. That did not happen in 1946 or 1947. This country now enjoys full employment.

A month before that the economists of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconstruction predicted 8,000,000 unemployment by the spring of 1946. They were wrong.

On Oct. 30, 1945, Henry Wallace President Truman issued an executive order in which he said that wages can be raised substantially without raising prices. he said:

"Industry as a whole can afford substantial wage increases" because elimination of time and a half for overtime "has reduced labor costs per hour," the number of jobs on the labor market "is resulting in a downward reclassification of jobs," and higher technical efficiency makes for "increased output per hour of work."

Wages have since risen. Thereupon Henry Wallace revealed a "confidential" report in his Department of Commerce to the effect that industry can raise wages 10 percent in 1945, the automobile industry, in particular, 15 percent in 1946 and an additional 10 percent in 1947, without raising prices.

The report also estimated car production at 3,500,000 in 1946, 4,500,000 in 1947. Of course, none of this happened just this way. The report proved to be a fake.

APPARENTLY all this was part of a plan that has been employed since with regularity to scare the American people that a frightful recession was in the offing. For on August 15, John W. Snyder, the War Mobilization Director, joined by Economic Stabilization Director William H. Davis, Price Administrator Chester Bowles, WPB Director Julius A. Krug, and War Manpower Commissioner Paul McNutt, broadcast from the White House that the "nation will undergo the shock of considerable, but temporary unemployment" but that it will not have "long periods of mass unemployment." That did not happen.

William H. Davis gave another reason for raising wages without increasing prices, namely, that it must be done to pay the national debt. He added that better wages do not result in direct price increases because higher labor costs are absorbed by other production factors.

That did not happen. By December 11, 1945, the steel strike was called which set off a prolonged series of strikes that produced increased wages, increased prices, delayed reconversion, continued shortages and culminated in the Taft-Hartley Bill.

So on February 14, 1946, the President reversed himself, permitting price adjustments to meet wage increases, thus setting off an inflationary spiral which fortunately has not yet got out of hand. Paul A. Porter pledged to hold the price line "until the tide of production has eliminated the threat of inflation." That has not happened yet.

MARRINER S. ECCLES, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, added the comment on Feb. 25 that wage rises are justified only when they can be met out of profits without increasing prices—which, of course, is not so. Wages are a cost of production.

Eccles' views were refuted by Chester Bowles, which made it funny. Bowles was then scaring the American people by the constant threat of inflation, if the OPA were permitted to be killed, or if it were permitted to live without him. And all the time he was shouting "inflation" his OPA was authorizing price increases.

He was supported by Paul Porter, who conceived the idea on March 21 that while prices will be adjusted upward, the cost of living will remain the same, which may mean something.

This little history is worth repeating because whereas in the Roosevelt administration the people were constantly being frightened by emergencies, in the Truman administration it is the scare of recession, inflation, unemployment.

They began talking that way in August, 1945. The British and the Russians have speculated about the forthcoming (I nearly wrote proposed) American recession as though it were inevitable.

The President's excuse for vetoing tax bills is that the government must have funds to meet a presumptive recession.

It is now two years that the President, Henry Wallace, government officials, professors, experts, Russians and Britblers have been trying to push a recession on us.

Let's forget the whole thing and start over.

HOLLYWOOD, July 25—Joan Crawford has such implicit faith in Jerry Weid that she has agreed to make "Time to Sing," a musical comedy, with him for Warners. After "Possessed" and "Mildred Pierce," she has decided it's time she has a change of pace and no daughter, even if these two dramas were knock-outs.

Joan Crawford

Remember, Joan used to be something of a dancer and she won dozens of cups in the old days—also her first big hit was "Dancing Daughters." Fred Astaire is being invited to play opposite her, and in Joan's own words "do the important dancing."

She says she loves the story, in "Time to Sing." It's a comedy of two married stage stars who had been dancers and retired, and then secretly joined the local straw hat circuit in silver boredom.

TWENTY-FIVE PER CENT of the production troupe on "Sleep, My Love," is suffering from the same allergy that has kept Claudette Colbert out of the cast for 10 days. The members almost dropped up after the company shot a garden party scene.

Now they believe something in the foliage is the "villain," for in addition to Claudette, Bob Cummings, cameraman Joe Valentine, Rita Johnston and others are all victims of a hay fever type of malady.

Poor Buddy Rogers, the producer and the gent holding the pocketbook, has a headache, too—but not from the allergy. Unless things get healthier he may have to shut down the expensive production.

I DON'T KNOW what decided David Selznick against producing Thomas Wolfe's "Look Homeward, Angel," a marvelous story and one of America's outstanding literary masterpieces.

But David has voted against it and sold the rights to Seymour Nebenzal. Along with the story goes Arthur Ripley, who worked on the script and discussed it fully with Thomas Wolfe's mother.

For a story of this caliber, Nebenzal can get his pick of actors. At the moment it looks as if Van Heflin might be borrowed.

TILLY LOSCH cables now that, at long last, she has obtained her divorce from Lord Carnarvon and she is coming to Hollywood next month to do a picture. Her last picture was "Duel in the Sun." Tilly is an amazing person. Not only is she a great dancer, but she's had enormous success with her paintings.

In the beginning Lord Carnarvon was suing her for divorce, but when she appeared in court and proved she had been willing to live with him the court up and awarded her the decree, which is something for England.

DORE SCHARY, RKO boss who was back at his desk today after several days at Arrowhead where he "rieked" on scripts, told me he is sending a company to Mexico.

"Sid Rogell will go there and find the locations," he said. "We're making a picture called 'Mystery in Mexico.' I think it's a good idea to make pictures in a different country. That's why we sent the 'Berita Express' company to Europe."

Speaking of "Berlin Express," Charles Korvin, who went abroad with Merle Oberon and the rest, is going to be upset when he hears that his American citizenship came through and he wasn't here to get it. He waited five years for it.

JUDY GARLAND is going to be heartbroken if "Annie Get Your Gun" goes at MGM without her. The Ethel Merman hit was originally bought for Judy, but since it will be some months before she is well enough to return to the screen, other testing has been going on.

Margaret Whiting is in the running, as well as Peggy Lee, the singer on the Woody Merman show. Margaret's voice is beautiful, but whether her acting will measure up is something yet to be seen.

"Annie" is now scheduled to start sometime this fall—but after all the tests are made and all the excitement dies down, what do you bet they wait for Judy?

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD collected at random: Bill Williams (today was receiving congratulations on the RKO lot over the arrival of a daughter. His wife is Barbara Hale, motion picture actress).

Rumor from London is that Diana Wynyard, the British actress, will divorce Carol Reed, the director.

Mark Warnow, famous orchestra leader, goes into the hospital for a serious operation.

Today Lois Whiteman, formerly married to Harry Barris, is being married the second time. Her bridegroom is Ken Hubbard of the sheriff's office in Santa Barbara. Remember Harry Barris, who worked with Bing Crosby and was one of the rhythm boys?

Jack Carson and Doris Day, Mike Curtiz' discovery, are stargazing.

With all the boy friends Nancy Oakes de Marigny has in Hollywood, it was Oliver Thorn-dyke who took her to the plane when she left for Mexico.

Little Gloria de Haven, who has been unhappy over her career, should be happy over her birthday gift from John Payne. He gave her beautiful diamond and pearl earrings.

John Swope, Dorothy McGuire's very rich husband, flew in his private plane to spend some time with her.

Leo Durocher and Laraine Day will spend two weeks in Mexico City as guests of President Aleman. Funny if Mexico offered Leo a job starting a baseball team.

The girl Tony Martin has been telephoning to most recently is Cyd Charisse.

The Norman Lloyd's (he is Lewis Milestone's assistant) are expecting a baby in four months.

Alan Hale and Alan Hale, Jr., are having a diet race at a dollar a pound, with Junior in the lead so far, having lost three pounds more than papa to date.

EXCLUSIVE: Instead of the sixth race as heretofore, the 1947 Massachusetts Handicap to be run next Wednesday will be the seventh race of the day's program

... This break from tradition, however, is not traceable to the management's desire to insure the presence of many patrons who have left Suffolk Downs in past years at the conclusion of the day's feature event ... The Massachusetts Handicap, for $50,000 added, instead of the $25,000 purse offered in the past several seasons, will be raced as the seventh event rather than the sixth because the time for a coast-to-coast broadcast is not available until 6:05 p. m.

THE SUFFOLK DOWNS management was moved to schedule the handicap as the seventh, and second-last, race of the day when sponsors of the broadcast pointed out that both Santa Anita and Churchill Downs race tracks always ran their nationally-famous Santa Anita Handicap and Kentucky Derby (each for $100,000 added money) as the penultimate or seventh event of an eight-race program ... New York tracks make a practice of scheduling their important stake and handicap races as the third last race of the day ... The New England tracks, as a rule, have followed the Suffolk Downs management in making the decision yesterday to defer this year's Massachusetts Handicap to the "next-to-closing spot" on the program ... The hesitance sprung from the directorate's unwillingness to lay itself open to charges of "money-grabbing."

THE CHARGE had been aired already that the Mass. Handicap would be run this year as the eighth, or final, race of the day ... And the authors of the charge stated that the reason for changing the race's place on the program was that the management wished to keep the customers on the premises and in betting action throughout the day ... It has been the experience of all race tracks that a costly accident on the track occurs wherever an important race for big money has been decided ... The customers in great numbers pour through the gates as soon as the result is posted in order to get a jump on the heavy traffic ... The Suffolk Downs management scheduled the Handicap a race later than traditionally in full knowledge that the mutuels-handle would not be harmed by the postponement ... But this was by no means the motive for the change ... In its desire to enhance the prestige of New England racing the Messrs. John Pappas, J. Arthur Warner, Allan J. Wilson et al wished mightily to have the running of the big race aired over a national network ... Suffolk Downs is being paid nothing at all for the right to broadcast the race.

THE SUMMERTIME Blues being sung this season by Edward Davis, operator of the famous Fox and Hounds Club and Khumba Casino, is about to be replaced by a much cheerier anthem ... Happy days for Mr. Davis and his loyal staff need to forget Wilson Lewis and his orchestra are here again, and so are cooler nights ... The Fox and Hounds Club at last has been equipped from basement to attic with a modern air-conditioning and cooling system ... It has been awaited for four years ... When the popular Beacon st. oasis was leading the town as the favorite dancing place of handsome young officers and their Boston girl friends, a makeshift air-cooling plant seemed to suffice ... But the lamented "housewren" between the nightclub and the public was on then ... This summer, business has suffered seriously because the Fox and Hounds Club was, at times, uncomfortably hot ... That's all over now, says Mr. Davis.

NEW YORK, July 25—Hannah Williams celebrated her birthday with Jack Dempsey and their two children the other day, and intimates are now betting that the planned screen biography of the Manassa Mauler will have a romantic ending ... Diana Costello and her Pupi are talking to lawyers ... Hollywood ites are yaking over the Hannah Williams rumor that Louis B. Mayer may resign from MGM in the near future ... Frances Faye, who shaved 60 lbs. in one year, has her medicines screaming "No more, no more!" ... Film theaters are desperately lobbying in the Capitol, hoping to eliminate the 20 per cent amusement tax, which has made the going so tough not only for their industry but the niteries as well ... Gus Schirmer, Jr., is crooning pretty phrases to dancer Carolyn Ayres ... Mickey Rooney is in a stew. Just discovered that the pal he's been giving his betting money to (with the understanding that all winnings be deposited to Mick's saving account) hasn't bet on a race all season, but has just held onto the money.

MOST DESOLATE DOLLS in town are those who splurged on mink coats last winter. Besides paying highly inflated prices, plus the 20 per cent tax, they are now dismayed to discover that the new skirt fashions date their costly wardrobe entirely last WASHINGTON, July 25—England's newspapers, which are walling strictly over being cut to four pages, could get along nicely if they had half the newspaper consumed by our government press agency on unread releases every day.

Not that I am advocating sending any newspaper to Britain because our own newspapers are undergoing desperate privations, but I would just like to give you an idea of the volume of publicity which flows out of Washington to waste baskets all over the country.

Startling facts on this wastage of precious newsprint have been dug up by Rep. Forest A. Harness of Kokomo, Ind., chairman of the subcommittee on publicity and propaganda of the House committee on expenditures in executive departments. The subcommittee's title may be long but its findings should bring us up short.

Latest figures obtainable by Mr. Harness placed federal expenditures for publicity at about $75,000,000 a year. It was also estimated that around 45,000 federal employees were engaged either part-time or full-time in turning out this bludge.

MR. HARNESS said he took a single day's output at random and asked the public printer to estimate how many columns of newsprint would have been consumed if all of it had been used. The public printer estimated it would have required 800 columns or 100 pages of a standard size newspaper, making no allowance for advertising, editorials, comics or other features.

I didn't have too concrete an idea what this meant myself so I asked Mr. Mike Flynn, veteran newspaper editor, who has to make up the news columns of a paper every day.

"The way things are now," said Mr. Flynn, "a metropolitan paper is lucky if it can get out 40 pages a day. That is ten times what British papers are allowed but 40 pages is still a pretty snail pace."

"Forty pages gives us 320 columns, eight to a page. On an average day about 180 columns would go to advertising, leaving 140 columns for news and features."

"The fixed features in our paper take up 72 columns. That leaves us with 68 columns for all the news."

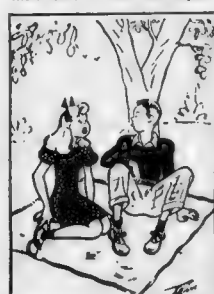

"You mean," I asked, "that if you didn't print another thing—nothing about what is actually going on in the world—there would still be 738 solid columns of government press releases you would have to throw away?"

"I do," replied Mr. Flynn.

Rep. Harness cited many instances of abysmal ignorance of news values on the part of the highly-paid government ballyhoo experts; ignorance that would drive any good news editor berserk. For instance,

"It was interesting to note that the War Department devoted a five-page, 2,000-word release to details on the President's new plane, but it dismissed its announcement of a 'new, most powerful engine' in less than 200 words."

THE HOUSE rules committee has reported favorably on a bill that would grant Indians who served in the Armed Forces the right to manage their own affairs and spend their money as they see fit.

This business of keeping Indians as wards of the government under constant guardianship was attacked in specific terms by Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio, who publishes several country newspapers. Said Congressman—Publisher Brown:

"I had an Indian inmate operator working for me once and he had a government guardian who stopped in to see him regularly. The guardian did not have as much sense as the Indian."

"The government must be dumb. It might be a good idea to make the Indians guardians over some of these government people. Maybe we should save an amendment to the bill to that effect!"

THE SHOEMAKER'S children never have shoes dept.: Dr. John Keaveny, of the department of dental surgery at Georgetown University, came home the other evening after a hard day of staring at molars and impacted bicuspids, to discover that his seven-year-old daughter, Gretchen, had just had a tooth extracted.

A bit piqued at not being invited to perform the operation himself, he asked his offspring what dentist mummy had seen fit to take her to. "No dentist," replied the child. "The maid jerked it out with a pair of pliers."

BY THE WAY, what's Sumatra in Sumatra?

Mass. General Gets Cancer Grant

Allocation of $46,695 in 19 grants to hospitals in Massachusetts to further cancer research has been announced by the American Cancer Society.

Some funds will be expended to investigate whether sex hormones can be changed into cancer-producing agents, and if so how the change takes place and how it can be controlled.

This study will be conducted at Mass. General Hospital, Free Hospital for Women and the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology.

New Senate Vote Quiz Move Balked

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Sen. Barkley (D.) of Kentucky, minority leader, today blocked a renewed attempt to bring up the Kern resolution to investigate Atty.-Gen. Clark's conduct in the Kansas City vote fraud cases—a controversy that kept the Senate in session all night.

a few hours' rest before reconvening.

When the session was resumed at noon Sen. Kern (R) of Missouri asked unanimous consent to bring his investigation resolution up again but Rankins objected.

Barkley denied there had been a filibuster and declared the Republicans had consumed four times as much time as Democrats while the matter had been pending.

Murdock for NLRB

OK'd by Senate Group

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP).—The Senate labor committee today approved 9-3 the nomination of former Democratic Sen. Abe Murdock of Utah to the National Labor Relations Board. It is doubtful, however, that the nomination of Murdock and two others appointed to NLRB posts will come to a Senate vote before adjournment tomorrow night.

The committee approved, also 9-3, the nomination of J. Copeland Gray of Buffalo to be a member of the board, and by a unanimous 12-0 vote the nomination of Robert N. Denham, Missouri-born resident of the capital, to be NLRB general counsel.

'Mercy Death'

GRANVILLE, Vt., July 25.—The intended victim of a mercy killing, Florence Ingalls, 28, today was slowly recovering at Randolph Hospital from an ordeal which took the life of her suicide father but failed to claim her own.

At the same time, State's Atty. John Conley disclosed the contents of two suicide notes left by the father, Prof. James W. Ingalls of Norwich University.

"What would you do if you had a crippled daughter who was helplessly insane? God forgive me," read one of the notes placed to a blanket beneath which the professor had lain down to die with his daughter—beneath the exhaust pipe of his automobile parked in a gravel pit.

Daughter Gains

"Some people won't understand this."

Raps Suing Tenant In Trapping Owner

A business-wise tenant who "set a trap" for a naive landlord by giving her a $500 bonus for an apartment in violation of OPA regulations was blasted today by Superior Judge Lewis Goldberg.

but was awarded the return of the bonus plus $100 counsel fees and costs.

Judge Goldberg found that Jack Rappaport, shoe company executive, had brought suit for treble damages against Mary M. Pats, Summit ave., Brighton, within two weeks after he took occupancy of the apartment in another Summit ave. home owned by the defendant.

Said the court: "I find the plaintiff's motive in advertising (in a newspaper) a bonus of $500 was to set a trap for an unwary landlord. I find he deliberately offered and gave the $500 to the defendant with the intention of bringing an action in the hope he would secure treble damages and make a profit of $1000 on his investment."

Mrs. Pats had testified she earned only $18 a week and said the $500 was not a bonus but part of the money was used to make repairs and installations in the apartment.

Rappaport said he brought suit because the defendant had failed to install an oil heater as promised.

A $1000 FISH

HOT SPRINGS, N. M., July 25 (AP)—You've heard about those big fish that got away, so listen now to the tale of George Mackey.

His didn't get away—and just pulling it in netted him $1000.

Mackey, of Albuquerque, hooked the two-pound five-ounce bass yesterday in Elephant Butte reservoir. It was just a nice catch until he found a tag attached.

That identified the bass as one of twenty worth $1000 and released in the Hot Springs Sporting Club's $55,000 fish derby. The other 19 are still in the lake.

COP ROBBED OF $970

NEWARK, N. J., July 25 (AP)—Patrolman Frank Meyers reported to police today that two wallets, containing $970 and miscellaneous papers, were stolen from his back pocket while he slept last night in a parked automobile.

MARRIAGE BOOM ON WANE

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The postwar boom in romance has reached its peak; marriages are on the decline. The office of vital statistics reports 427,319 marriage licenses during the first quarter of 1947, 20 per cent fewer than for the same quarter of 1946.

Harris Children in Custody Fight to Learn Fate Aug. 20

Robert Duncan Harris, 9, and his sister Joan Marie, 4, pawns in a custody battle between their divorced parents, will not know their fate until Aug. 20, according to a ruling made today by Superior Court Judge Charles C. Cabot.

On that date the New York Supreme Court will make its decision on a divorce petition by the children's father, Col. Murray D. Harris, Waban, who contends the divorce granted his ex-wife, Mrs. Helen Murphy Harris Brooks, in Sarasota last May 7, was illegal.

If that court grants custody to Mrs. Brooks, who married Arthur Brooks 17 days after her divorce, Judge Cabot said he would issue a writ of habeas corpus ordering Mrs. Imogene Harris Swinton, Wamesit rd., Waban, to deliver the children to the mother, Mrs. Swinton, wife of Lahey Clinic's Dr. Neil H. Swinton, is the sister of Col. Harris.

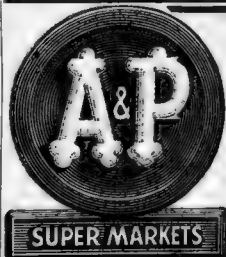

The New York Supreme Court today stayed its own temporary order granting custody and $300 monthly support to Mrs. Brooks pending outcome of the colonel's divorce petition. A hearing on the petition for the writ of habeas corpus was interrupted dramatically last Tuesday by a special delivery airmail letter from the New York court, ordering the stay until yesterday. The stay was then continued to Aug. 20.

In making his decision, Judge Cabot denied a motion by Harris' counsel to dismiss the habeas corpus proceeding on the ground the ex-Mrs. Harris' divorce was invalid. Counsel said Harris still considered himself married to Mrs. Brooks and that there is no precedent in Massachusetts law for the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus to a wife against her husband.

QUITS LABOR POST

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Keen Johnson resigned today as undersecretary of labor, effective Aug. 1. He said in a letter to President Truman, dated today, that he was returning to private industry.

Canadian Boat Aground With Officials Aboard

OTTAWA, July 25 (AP)—The river steamer Klondike, carrying Gov.-Gen. Viscount Alexander on a tour of the Canadian north, went aground today at Ft. Selkirk, Yukon, and the RCAF has been asked to fly the passengers to Dawson City, the Army reported. No one was injured.

EXTEND CREDIT CONTROLS
WASHINGTON, July 25 (INS)—House-Senate conferees agreed on legislation extending consumer credit controls until Nov. 1 unless terminated at an earlier date by President Truman.

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE, Beauty and Fashion Editor

IF YOU NEVER TOOK your figure problems seriously before . . . If you apologized and got away with it . . . you'll give these silhouette shortcomings their just due now. Or you'll hate yourself next fall when you try to look as fashion-smart as the next woman.

Whether you like the new clothes or not is beside the point . . . for you know full well you're going to train yourself to like them since you don't want to be the only woman out of style step. It would be wise to take yourself to a noted beauty salon and let that salon staff of trained experts show you the way to figure perfection.

Every exercise, every treatment is tailored to your needs. Your requirements are analyzed, studied carefully, and your individual course prescribed. If you are a girl who shudders at the word "exercise," don't worry. Gone are the stiff, precise one-two-three exercises so reminiscent of grade-school gymnasium classes. Here exercising is fun.

You bend and stretch to the accompaniment of your favorite waltz tunes or tango rhythms. You seem to float blissfully through a series of ballerina poses . . . but all the while the cleverly evolved exercises are gently but firmly tightening tired muscles, melting excess pounds. You emerge still on a cloud, your carriage erect, poised, your walk smooth, your figure lithe. Your contour is custom-molded for the most revealing, slim and wrapped silhouette or for the rounded and full outline, that must be bulgeless.

If you are a languid, lazy-daisy . . . a girl who wants trim lines without moving a muscle . . . this salon offers four of the most luxuriously lazy roads to figure beauty we know. For example, there is a passive reducing machine which does your exercising while you lie completely at ease.

ONE OF MOST UNUSUAL TREATMENTS

Applied at the spots where weight has accumulated . . . electrical impulses flex the muscles, removing inches from any area . . . and it better be around the waist and buttocks. Massage, too, is a lazy way to figure loveliness. Here deft hands of a trained masseuse will sculpture your curves into finely molded lines as she firms tissues, relaxes taut muscles, soothes jagged nerves.

Then there is the luxurious relaxation . . . and we mean luxurious, a treatment culled from the wonder-medical-workings of the World War I . . . of the wax bath . . . a velvety wax blanket treatment followed by massage and a water-jet finale. This is one of the most unusual body treatments we ever took . . . and the face improves, too.

The heated wax envelops your body in a fragrant sheath as extra pounds melt away . . . and they do. And, finally, the magic roller reduces waist or hips . . . concentrating on the specific area needing treatment. Again you do not move . . . but achieve vibrancy and slimming effects while standing in a relaxed position.

For your rightful place in the sartorial sun next fall . . . get your line of greatest loveliness via the easy, painless way.

For the name of the salon featuring these specialized body treatments, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, daily except week-ends, or write to me, care of the Boston Evening American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

NOW IS THE TIME to face the music . . . to slim down unsightly bulges, to firm the contour, to develop the slender, fluid lines that will be so unrelentingly essential to figure beauty for next fall's exciting new clothes . . . the most startling fashion upheaval in years. If like Columbia star Evelyn Keyes you can wear such a separated costume and look as charming as she does . . . you have nothing to worry about. But if not . . . let a noted beauty salon overhaul your figure for fall.

Both Girls Seem too Serious

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: What do you think of a fellow you have been going with for quite some time, and who you found out was making love to another girl all the time he was making love to you?

Of course he doesn't know that I know all about it. I was lucky enough to find out.

"DIARY"
I certainly agree that it would be very foolish ever to take him seriously again.

Plaids in Front

By EILEEN CALLAHAN

PLAIID has grown a long way from schoolgirl gingham in the fancy plaids that make some of the most sophisticated dresses in the new collections. Among the newest plaids are the iridescent ones that shimmer and glow with subtly changing colors.

Charles Armour uses one of these iridescent plaids to make a youthfully sophisticated dress. This plaid combines at least six colors.

The body of the dress fits the figure so trimly that a belt is not needed. The skirt starts well below the hips and is gathered for fullness. The top of the dress is made very simply, with a plain little collar, a long row of buttons and long sleeves. The colors are wine, green, blue, brown, red and gold.

Salad Grand Dinner Dish

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

WHAT TO SERVE FOR DINNER is the waking thought of every meal planner. It's a constant battle against monotony—with every bit of ingenuity on call.

But through all the brain-racking, there is always one old reliable—tossed green salad—crisp greens, plus whatever looks attractive on the green grocer's stalls. Salad ingredients run the gamut from lettuce, chicory, escarole, romaine, endive and water cress, to cabbage and spinach, and all the crisp fresh vegetables that aren't green at all like carrots, cauliflower buds, tomatoes, radishes, and the rest.

The French way of preparing a tossed salad is simple, practical and good. They break up the leaves into fork-size pieces, put in a bowl and pour on the dressing. Then with a large fork and spoon the greens are tossed and tossed until every bit is covered with dressing. And here's how they make a good dressing: Mix 1-3 cup olive oil with 2 tsp. vinegar, salt, and pepper and a little paprika and mix well.

A molded salad served on crisp lettuce leaves is a tempting addition to warm weather meals.

TOMATO COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

2 cups canned tomatoes or tomato juice
1 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
5 tsp. minced onion
1 pkg. lemon gelatin
1 1/4 cups cottage cheese
2 tsp. minced green pepper
1/2 cup diced celery
1 cup cooked leftover green vegetable, or
2 cups finely shredded cabbage

1-3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tbsp. cold water

Combine tomatoes, salt, pepper, bay leaf, cloves and onion in saucepan. Cook gently 20 minutes. Force through sieve, measure, and add hot water to make 1 1/4 cups. Dissolve gelatin in hot tomato mixture. Add vinegar. Measure 1/2 cup mixture, add cold water, and turn into bottom of ring mold or individual molds. Chill until firm. Chill remaining gelatin mixture until slightly thickened. Combine the cottage cheese with remaining ingredients and fold into thickened gelatin mixture. Add salt to taste. Turn into mold over firm gelatin layer and chill until firm. Unmold on crisp lettuce. Makes 8 servings.

Does the family ever request that the main course of a summer dinner be a salad bowl of fresh fruit? They will, once they have experienced the subtle blending of flavors and the possibilities of new and delicious food combinations which are bounded only by the limits of imagination. Try a bowl filled with salad greens, orange slices, fresh apricot halves and accent with whole red cherries. Top with the family's favorite salad dressing and serve with hot rolls.

For a citrus and cottage cheese salad that's really different, garnish the orange slices with sprig mint and the mound of cottage cheese with roasted salted nuts.

GREENVILLE, N. H., July 25 (AP)—James Lorette, Jr., 26, a bus driver on the Manchester-Fitchburg, Mass., route, was killed by an electric shock while working in the cellar of his home when he came in contact with a wire attached to a water pipe. He leaves a widow and five young children. Lorette was an Army veteran.

Smart Set Junior League Artist to Wed

By BETTY ALDEN

THE ROMANCE of Henrietta Bruce Sharon, Boston Junior League artist and author, and Carroll Aument, Jr., also an artist, is revealed in announcement of their engagement by her mother, Mrs. Frederic Christy Sharon.

During the war Henrietta worked for the USO sketching veterans in military hospitals around New York and published a book about her experiences. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Aument of Milford Ct. He drove an ambulance for the American Field Service in Africa and Egypt and in September will join the art faculty at Fieldston School, New York. He is a graduate of Yale Art School.

MRS. SHERMAN MORSE also wore an appropriate costume, a bolero dress of Tartan plaid gingham. Mrs. W. Galbraith Mitchell came over from Marblehead to lend a hand at the antique table which she has served for many years. She is particularly interested in old treasures, having recently hung out her shingle as an antiques dealer in Swampscott.

Gen. Webster to Be Air Day Speaker

Major Gen. Robert M. Webster, Commanding General of the 1st Air Force, will be guest speaker at a banquet Friday, Aug. 1, at the Hotel Statler, in commemoration of Air Force Day.

He was born in Boston Oct. 10, 1892. In 1926 he was enlisted as a flying cadet and in a short while received his wings and a commission as a Second Lieutenant. From that time his promotions and achievements have been noteworthy.

Major Gen. Webster

The general holds a record for continuous service since his initial entry in 1918. In 1926 he was commended for his activity and skillful work during the relief of those injured by a typhoon at Batangas, Philippine Islands.

With the advent of the Second World War his services were much in demand. He was assigned to Chief of Air Corps, Civilian Air Patrol, Operations Department of the War Dept. General Staff, Commanding General, First Air Support Command, 42d Bombardment Wing, 12th Air Force, First Tactical Air Force, Headquarters Air Transport Command, and his present position as commanding general, First Air Force. This latest assignment was only recently given him.

'Dear Ruth' Pleasant Film Treat for Met's Patrons

By PEGGY DOYLE

As blithe and beguiling as was the original stage comedy of several seasons ago, Paramount's "Dear Ruth" is proving pleasant fare for the Met's chuckling customers.

The slight but amusing plot, you may recall, stemmed from the wartime-inspired nobility of Ruth's sub-deb sister, who sought to build the morale of a home-sick overseas soldier by writing him ardent letters over Ruth's simulated signature.

There is a not inconsiderable sense of strain when William Holden's handsome, likable lieutenant and Joan Caulfield's provocative Ruth, the latter ignorant of their flaming exchange of penmanship, first met under the questioning eyes of her parents.

They are most understanding parents but frankly they are confused by the abrupt discovery of their daughter's unexpected talent for duplicity.

The entire action takes place in two days and they are two hectic days as you'll ever spend in any one of our movie cathedrals. For Ruth is engaged to none other than Boston's own Billy De Wolfe, in the role of as stuffy and pedantic a suitor as ever waxed a mustache.

Edward G. Arnold and Mary Phillips, as the parents who appreciate their daughter's dilemma, studiously resist indicating their preference for the young Navy man, are very real folk.

De Wolfe is perfectly swell as the painfully jealous fiancé who has promised to "let things pass" just for the duration of the two-day visit. He never overplays, making the characterization as monumentally comic as it is sadly frustrated.

Miss Caulfield and Holden are delightfully teamed, performing with a humanness that has you pulling for the final happy clinch.

Nona Freeman, as little Miss Fitt, is one of our better teenage performers, acting with a naturalness and charm that are completely captivating.

Added to these and other fine performances and William Russell's skilled direction is a realism throughout the production that, let us hope, is a trend and a promise of more such made-in-America pictures to come.

RUSSIAN FILM AT OLD SOUTH
The new Soviet film, "The Vow," which is said to be concerned with a pledge Stalin made at Lenin's funeral in January, 1924, is now showing at the Old South Theater.

FAMED CONDUCTOR— Leopold Stokowski directs the New York Philharmonic Symphony in "Carnegie Hall," the picture that assembles more musical greats than have ever been brought together on concert stage or screen. Now in its sixth big week at the Esquire.

Paul Muni to Play At Marblehead

Paul Muni has been signed to appear in "Counselor-at-Law," one of his first stage successes, at Marblehead for the week of Aug. 4. M. Blake Johnson, 2d, and John L. Washburn, managing directors of the North Shore players, have announced.

Muni first played it on Broadway on Nov. 6, 1931, re-lived it on Nov. 6, 1942-July 1943. Otto Kruger played the lawyer in May, 1932. A limited number of subscriptions are now on sale for the five remaining weeks of the season beginning with tomorrow night's "Heaven Help the Angels," starring the dancing Hartmans.

"CHEYENNE" TO MODERN
"Cheyenne," roaring Western with Dennis Morgan and Jane Wyman, will be seen on the Modern screen, beginning tomorrow. On the same bill will be "The Trouble With Women," starring Ray Milland, Teresa Wright and Brian Donley.

Bringing Up Father

Plenty of Opposition

By George McManus

STOPPED RAINING!

HAZLETON, Pa., July 25 (AP)—Residents of this Eastern Pennsylvania anthracite region city remained outdoors without umbrellas — and remained dry—for the first time since July 2.

Yesterday was the first break in a record streak of 22 rainy days which have brought 13.89 inches of precipitation, triple the average July total. Rainfall for 1947 to date is 46.54 inches, compared to Hazleton's average yearly rainfall of 47.83 inches.

Spahn Easing Up? Lake Finds Tribe In-and-Out Club

By AUSTEN LAKE

ST. LOUIS, July 25—Billy Southworth says he isn't worrying about Warren Spahn's twin flops. So I'll do a little job of worry for him.

The Braves wonder boy, who had a record of 13 and 3 a week ago until his stuff seemed to curdle, took his lumps from Pittsburgh Sunday and the Cubs Thursday. He was well tagged in both games, and I have my gall with me when I disagree with Southworth that actually Spahn had as much whizz as ever. I don't think so.

Wazzamatta! As is the familiar refrain when things go sour and nobody knows why, I'll hazard a guess and it is your privilege to disagree.

Spahn isn't taring back and giving his fireball and curve ball the usual umph with the explosive energy that marked his earlier games, of which he won the first eight in a row. And it may be that he has fallen into that old pitching trap by getting too cute, crafty and speculative for his own good. I say he isn't taring loose like he used.

There's an old baseball legend: "When a fast ball pitcher begins to think he's a gone goose." It's an adage which may also apply to Ted Hughson and Dave Ferriss of the Red Sox, who used to "blow" their pitches past the batters by sheer bone, gristle and muscle. Last year, Hughson won 20 and Ferriss 25. This year Ferriss has 8 and Hughson 7. Again wazzamatta? I claim they aren't giving the ball the same goshamighty goose that they did. They've turned foxy. They're artists now instead of artisans and the enemy batters have crimped their toe nails and stroked their denatured stuff like your little sister petting the family pussycat. If you've got a better theory come up with it.

Bob Quinn Put MacFayden Back on Track

LEFTY SPAHN, just 25, has simply been outpitched in his last two starts, one by old Fritz Ostermueller and again by young Doyle Lade, one a grizzled greybeard and the other a pink-cheeked freshman. Both of them are stylists of the half-speed mixed grill chop suey sort, now a nibbler, now a medium rare, here one, there one. It's their style and it suits them. But it doesn't suit Spahn or Ferriss or Hughson who have a fund of raw power and a fast-breaking curve when they throw 'em.

This notion is by no means original with me. It's a gospel that many a league-wise oldtimer has preached for many years, particularly Bob Quinn. I recall Bob taking Danny MacFayden, if you are old school enough to remember him, aside when the Yankees turned Danny loose and saying: "You're using too much brain and not enough arm, shoulder and backbone. Try being less smart and more muscular." Danny did and enjoyed a personal renaissance with the Braves that had the press writing about the "New Danny" when it was nothing more than the "Old Danny" doing his real stuff.

Southworth says with much justice that Lefty was more sinned against than sinning, that he got ragged support in the fateful third inning when Bob Elliott heaved a simple roller at the mezzanine pigeons and Johnny Hopp missed a miracle catch up against the center field ivy. But what about the second inning when McCullough, Abernethy and Nicholson hit a single, triple and single that flew on a line like something drawn with a draftsman's straightedge. And what about the three successive singles in the fifth (Lowery, Pafko and Caveretta). Bing-bang-bing, that ended Lefty.

No Middle V in Braves—Either Hot or Cold

THIS GAME, PART, Southworth had relied on the Braves carry the Cubs series, 3-1, and going into the critical battlefield of the pennant campaign, St. Louis, with that fat to fall back on. The Cardinals are hot, the Cubs are not. Well the thing didn't come off, as Robert Burns says, the "best laid plans of mice and men gang aft a' gley."

Let's face facts, however painful they may be to the Braves' hometown loyalists. The club is playing "in-and-out" baseball. They're assassins at the bat one day and paralytics the next. They'll turn in a pitching masterpiece today and get slapped silly the next. And there's no real explanation for the inconsistency, as witness Wednesday when they lapped the sawdust out of the Cubs, 12-4, and then next day didn't get the ball out of the infield for the first five innings. Excuse me, Hugh did lift a pop foul to right in the 3rd.

Thus, if this writer seems to blow hot when the Braves win and cold when they lose, it's because the Braves are blowing that way too. There seems to be no middle ground. Tuesday, the Braves won behind Red Barrett (2-0) and looked peppery and full of vinegar. In the second game, they lost behind Voiselle's excellently pitched game (2-0) and looked as though they yearned for a box spring mattress and cool white sheets. Wednesday, they were full of zip and paprika. Thursday they droned and dreamed. And that, gentle reader, is not the "royal road to pennants."

So, this is St. Louis, burial ground of many a pennant hunter. It's Red Barrett's night (um-uh?) Bill Voiselle tomorrow (atta boy), Johnny Sain Sunday (nice goin'), and Warren Spahn Monday (chaaa kid). The law is rocky, the hoeing tough. What now, Braves, hot or cold?

Red Sox Send Lefty Johnson Against Browns' Kramer

By FRED HOGY

Lefty Johnson, who pitched the magnificent three-hitter against the St. Louis Browns to win 1-0 when the Red Sox last visited the Mound City, will be on the hill for Joe Cronin's men in the opening of the four-game series with Muddy Ruel's Browns to-night at Fenway Park. This game will start at 8:30.

Jack Kramer, generally a tough opponent for the Sox, will be on the mound for St. Louis. Jack hasn't been his usual self this season, but there is always the threat he'll pop up effectively against the Sox.

Johnson's last start was one of the outstanding American League pitching efforts of the year. Lefty gave the Browns three hits in the first inning. Thereafter, the crack southpaw, whose veins are loaded with ice water, held the Browns hitless.

The Sox have an account to settle with St. Louis. On their last visit to that city, the home boys grabbed three of the four games. Then the Browns followed by splitting two games with the Yanks. Yesterday, they ran into ill luck against the Yanks.

The recent surge of the Browns, even though it may be only temporary, was coincidental with the acquisition of two Negro players by the team. Muddy Ruel picked up outfielder Willard Brown and Henry Thompson, second baseman, both from the Kansas City Monarchs of the Negro American League.

The Browns also have an option on Piper Davis, another Negro with the Birmingham, Ala., Barons.

So, there will be plenty of fun tonight with the Sox striving to break the spell the Browns hold over them.

In an amazing 12 hits including Ted Williams' No. 1000, the Sox put the pressures Chicago, 8-2, yesterday and the sweep of the series. Ted's ever landed 16 rows high in tight field bleachers. His avenge now has reached the 323 hit while Johnny Peaky is big a cool 312.

The Red Sox scored three Chicago pitchers allow Fenway Park in the process running their seasonal record against this club to 13-2. Lefty had started. He was relieved by G. Gebrian, who was followed by Gordon Maltzberger.

On the other hand, Denny Galehouse rung up a fifth win for the Red Sox against one defeat. When the Browns waived Denny to Boston, he had a 1-3 record.

Except for Luke Appling's homer in the sixth and a brief

Chicago flurry in the third, which produced a run, Galehouse never was in serious trouble. He appeared to ease up as the Boston run total mounted.

The Red Sox scored five runs in the sixth, and three in the seventh to seal the game.

Once again Sam Dente was the fielding star. This crack third baseman came up with a sparkling play in the eighth which rubbed out a Chicago rally.

With runners on first and second and one out, Bob Kennedy hit a sharp grounder to Sam's left. It appeared for a moment as though it might slip through. But Dente stabbed it with his gloved hand, and made a perfect throw to Doerr at second ending Phillips, and Bobby pegged to Jones to nail Kennedy. It was one of the best round-the-horn double plays executed at the local orchard this season. Dente certainly is a whale of a fielder.

The Red Sox' night game record at home is 3-3 and on the road 2-5. Papish beat the Red Sox, 5-1, in Chicago July 15. Galehouse trimmed the White Sox, 7-2, July 16. To settle a controversy which has been waging for years over the respective speed and liveliness of the baseball used in the manufacture of balls for both leagues Edward Hubbert of Pekasie, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia, says they are the same. He adds the present ball is the liveliest ever manufactured.

Cards Go as Does Musial--Up Now

Trace the rise in efficiency of Stan Musial with the stick, and you'll find it parallels the rise of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals from their cellar position of not so long ago to their present eminence in a tie for second with the Braves, according to the Associated Press.

The Cards' great first baseman, who ended the 1946 National League season with the most hits, the most doubles and triples as well as a top .365 batting average which helped him win the "Most Valuable Player" award, got off to his worst start in all of his nine years in professional baseball.

Coincidental with Musial's failure to get many baseruns, the Cards also got off to their worst start in history to earn themselves a long tenure in the basement. At the end of April, Musial was hitting exactly .146 and the Cards had lost 11 of their first 13 games.

Stan continued in the throes of the worst batting slump of his career through the next month and the end of May found him hitting a miserable .188. The Cards kept pace with Musial, retaining their firm grip on last place with a 15-22 won and lost record.

The darling of Donora, Pa., began his climb in June—and so did the Cardinals. By the end of the month, Stan had raised his batting average to .250 and the Cards, keeping pace, rose to fifth place, hurdling the 500 mark for the first time.

Musial really began to sizzle in July. He swatted the pill for a .325 average to bring his mark up to a current .273. Sparked by his big bat, the Cards won 15 of their 24 games during this month to sweep past the Cubs and Giants into third place. This is Musial's highest batting mark as well as the Cardinals' loftiest position this season.

It was Musial's 10th inning single that drove in Red Schoendienst with the run yesterday that gave the Cards a 3-2 overtime victory over the Giants and sent them into third place, only one half length behind the second place Braves.

Despite the victory, St. Louis' ninth in their last 11 meetings with the Giants, the Cards failed to gain ground on the front running Dodgers, who scored to their

REPLAY IN N. L.

Ford Frick, head of the National League, today ordered a replay of the disputed game of last Sunday between the Dodgers and Cardinals at Ebbetts Field. Frick said the game would go in the records as a 3-3 tie instead of a Dodger 4-3 win, that one win would be taken from the Dodgers in the standings and that one loss would be taken from the Cards, lifting them into a second-place tie with the Braves, whom they play tonight in St. Louis. (Details on Back Page) sixth straight win by defeating the Reds in Cincinnati 6-1.

Pittsburgh vacated the National League cellar and dumped the Phillies into that spot by sweeping both ends of a double-header from Philadelphia, 8-6 and 3-2. Clyde Klutts' grand slam homer in the first inning was the big blow of the opener. Kirby Higbe outpitched Schoolboy Rowe in the nightcap as the Pirates came from behind with two runs in the last of the eighth.

Enjoying their best hitting day of the season, the American League leading Yankees pounded three St. Louis hurriers for 20 hits to trounce the Browns, 15-4.

The Yanks' first place margin over runner-up Detroit rose to 11½ games when Washington, behind the four-hit pitching of Walter Masterson, defeated Hal Newhouser and the Tigers, 3-0, at night in the Capitol City.

Bobby Feller became the first American League pitcher to win 12 games when he hurled Cleveland to a 6-1 victory over the A's in Philadelphia.

Battle of the Bluefins Opens in Maine Waters

By "TAP" GOODENOUGH

"More schools of tuna fish than have ever been seen in these waters" is the exciting word from Bailey Island, Maine, where the second annual Tuna Tournament is scheduled to start tomorrow with over 40 prominent anglers entered in the "battle for the bluefins."

"We sighted school after school of tuna yesterday," reports Jesse Johnson, well-known guide. "At least 75 fish were breaking water at one time—but they weren't striking. Maybe they'll co-operate for the contest, however, and if they do, the take should be the biggest in our history."

Among the entrants are Gov. Robert Bradford of Massachusetts and Gov. Horace Hildreth of Maine. Mrs. Carol Meyers, Brielle, N. J., who holds the all-time record to date for Bailey Island—an 818-pounder—is on hand, as well as Frank Sawyer of Boston, Dr. Leon Storz of Worcester, who has headed more than 150 tuna, Herbert E. Harrington of Southborough, Jack Brawley, rod and gun editor of the New York Mirror, and many others.

Host club for the fishing fray is the Bailey Island Tuna Club, aided by Sea and Shore Fisheries Commissioner Richard E. Reed. Judges will be J. Hammond Brown, executive director of the Outdoor Writers of America, and other officials. "The tourney will conclude Tuesday evening, and Gov. Hildreth will award the trophies to fortunate fishermen."

OUTDOOR O. O.'s: A team of four representing the N. E. Outdoor Writers Ass'n will "match wits" with another quartet from Providence, R. I., on the "Quiz of Two Cities" program this evening which commences from station WNAC at 8 o'clock. The Boston group will be composed of Bill Schmidt of Hunting and Fishing magazine, Mark Burlingame of The Salt Water Sportsman, Dick Shaughnessy, skeet and trapshooting champion, and this writer.

From New Hampshire, conserved. Other stunts will be performed by Bill McCoy, Ginny Wales, and Dana Jones, all members of the Bruce Parker Water Ski School, operating at the Weirs this summer. Skiing on water is very tricky, but it's the same technique as that used on snow prevails. The state, however, are wider than hickories, and spills can be rough. "TAP"

Swimmers Face Busy Weekend

The two Record-American-Sunday Advertiser swimming meets which are scheduled for this weekend—one at Brockton tomorrow, the other at Falmouth Sunday—will be the greatest tests that New England swimmers have had for close to a decade. The best swimmers from each of these meets will be invited to participate in the Water Carnival at Rangeley Lakes, Maine, Aug. 2.

The Brockton meet (2:45 p. m.) will have four title classes, the NEAAU senior 880-yard freestyle for women; the NEAAU senior 300-meter individual medley for men; the NEAAU junior 50-meter freestyle for men; and the State 100-meter backstroke for women.

The Falmouth meet (3 p. m.) at the Hotel Cape Codder, with Capt. John Peterson, owner of the hotel, having made extensive plans to welcome the swimmers, has attracted every junior and senior champion in New England.

Among the champs entered are Clara Lanore, Joe Prata, Barbara Donaghey, Bob McGrath, Wimpy Burnett, Bon Arwezon, Pauline Silven, Coralie O'Connor, and 39 others.

Anne Ross, nine times the National springboard champion, will fly from New York to give a special exhibition.

NL Replay Order Ties Cards, B's

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—President Ford Frick of the National League today ordered "in the name of common sense and sportsmanship" that the disputed game of last Sunday between the Brooklyn Dodgers and St. Louis Cardinals at Ebbetts Field be replayed on Aug. 18, thus upholding the protest of the St. Louis club.

The game in dispute was won by Brooklyn, 3 to 2, after St. Louis claimed Ron Northey had been deprived of an inside-the-park home run in the ninth inning by the action of umpire Beans Reardon in telling him to "slow down" as he approached third base.

Reardon thought the ball had gone into the stands, but it had not, and the Cardinal player was thrown out at the plate.

Frick said the game would be regarded as having ended in a 3-3 tie, and that all individual records compiled in the game would stand. One game would be subtracted from Brooklyn's win record and one loss subtracted from the Cardinals' standing.

This left St. Louis trailing the Dodgers by five and one-half games, and tied with the Boston Braves for second place in the National League.

The Cards and Dodgers already have a game scheduled at Ebbetts Field that day and the replay thus forms a double-header.

Awarding Northey a home run on the blow left the Cardinals with two out in the top half of the ninth, but Frick pointed out that the Dodgers also had but two out when they quit play in the final half of the inning after having registered all their runs.

After Northey was thrown out at the plate on a relay from Dixie Walker by second baseman Ed Stanky to catcher Bruce Edwards, manager Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals informed the umpires he would continue play only under protest.

The Cardinals' formal complaint was received by league headquarters earlier this week and the Dodgers had until noon today to present their version. When no word was received from them Frick made his ruling.

Replays have been ordered previously in the National League when rules have been violated, but this is believed to be the first instance where a game has been ordered rescheduled because of a mistake in the judgment of an umpire.

Ruth Expects Homer Record, Backs Mize

ATLANTA, July 25 (AP)—Babe Ruth says he expects his major league home run record of 60 for a baseball season to be broken eventually and, if so, he'd like to see Johnny Mize of the New York Giants do the trick to "keep it in the family."

"If Johnny does it, the record still will be in the family," Ruth said in an interview here. Grinning, he explained that Mize was a second cousin of Mrs. Ruth.

Victim Removed

—From the ruins of a fire-blackened Weymouth cottage, the body of Mrs. Wilhelmina Burin, 50, of Roxbury, is removed after flames took her life, burned her husband, Joseph, 52, and sent her aunt, Mrs. Grace Cook, 75, to the South Shore Hospital, suffering from shock. Burin was badly burned in a futile attempt to save his wife of 9 months.
